

All-Purpose Shears and BX Cable Cutter

These All-Purpose Shears and BX cable cutter cut BX cable, sheet metal, steel strapping and bundling wire. Lightweight and compact, this tool features a wire stripping notch in nose for added convenience. The handle cavity is designed to restore BX cable to original shape after cutting.

Specifications

|                |                                                                |                   |                                                               |
|----------------|----------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------|
| Type:          | All-Purpose                                                    | Cutting Capacity: | Cuts BX Cable, Sheet Metal, Steel Strapping and Bundling Wire |
| Application:   | Cuts Bx Cable, Sheet Metal, Steel Strapping, and Bundling Wire | Handle Color:     | Red                                                           |
| Handle Finish: | Plastic-Dipped                                                 | Overall Length:   | 7.625" (19.4 cm)                                              |
| Weight:        | 9.6 oz (272 g)                                                 |                   |                                                               |