Update on SARS-CoV-2

19 March 2020

Dear customers,

Governmental authorities across the globe have undertaken drastic actions in order to reduce the expansion of SARS-CoV-2. Here at Bosch-Sensortec our aim at this time is to ensure the protection of our employees and at the same time offer a continuous service to our customers with minimum disruptions.

Nevertheless, given the recent announcements specifically for Malaysia and Manila, Philippines, some of our assembly sub-suppliers are experiencing an impact on their production and delivery schedules, and we therefore anticipate delays in part of our own future MEMS sensor deliveries. We have not had specific details from these sub-supplier partners at this time but rest assured we are currently working with them to determine the extent of the impact on this part of our supply chain and the specific products involved.

Our goal is to maximise shipments under these boundary conditions including global balancing of our assembly sites and we will inform you about the specific products and their shipments impacted as well as the predicted duration of the disruption as soon as we are able to.

In parallel to this communication, we will be in direct communication with your material planners in order to understand your own minimum requirements so we can minimize the impact on your production. We are continuously monitoring the situation and we will keep you informed of all relevant updates.

There is no doubt we are all facing very difficult times and so our thoughts are additionally with you our customers as we work on solutions for the personal and business challenges we will confront together, stay safe.

Yours sincerely

Mark Johnson
VP Global Sales
