RE: Murata Factory Status Updates

As previously informed, the Covid-19 (a.k.a. Coronavirus) situation is very fluid and continues to progress.

We continue to monitor the safety and health conditions of our colleagues. Murata factory teams have been doing their best to support the local communities and reduce the spread of the virus. Murata will continue to work with the local authorities and community to find ways to reduce any further spread of the virus.

As of this writing, please find updates for the following production locations that were impacted by local government shut-down directives due to COVID-19:

- Japan:
 - All factories are operating normally.
- China:
 - Factories in Wuxi, Shenzhen, DongGuan, and Zhuhai are in operation but, not yet back to full production.
- Philippines:
 - Murata Philippine Manufacturing is still shut down through April 12th.
- Malaysia:
 - Murata Electronics (Malaysia) Sdn. Bhd. restarted production on a very limited basis on April 1st.
 - Toko Electronics (Sarawak) Sdn. Bhd. restarted limited shipments of existing inventory on March 27th.
- United Kingdom:
 - Our NCL Milton Keynes, UK facility remains closed as a preventative measure. This closing is extended through April 17th.

Our Service & Supply Chain teams continue to monitor the situation. Any delivery schedule adjustments will be communicated accordingly as information becomes available and as required. Please address any questions you may have to your local Murata Sales team members.

We will continue to update the situation as timely as possible.
