

LDE/LDB construction

- LDE capacitor is in film technology and consists in several hundred layers of plastic film.
- The terminations are obtained by flame spraying different metals on the stacked element before cutting into single capacitors; the terminations have a different geometry from the ceramic capacitor.
- Then the pieces are located inside of a barrel with media and metal is deposited through electroplating, thus the terminations surface looks rough (not smooth).

©KEMET Corporation. All Rights Reserved.

3